Andres is a graduate of UCLA School of Law. He joined Eccleston and Wolf as an Associate, after working at a regional criminal defense and personal injury law firm, and after clerking for the Honorable John P. Davey in the Circuit Court of Prince George's County. During law school, he was a member of the Moot Court Honors Society and he was Co-Editor-in-Chief of the Chicax-Latinx Law Review.

His practice focuses on civil litigation matters including employment matters, commercial litigation, construction, the defense of legal and medical professionals, Homeowner's Associations (HOA), community organizations and management companies, and general personal injury defense. He also defends motor vehicle claims and general liability matters that involve serious personal injury and/or significant property damage.
